The Department of Veterans Affairs Southern Oregon Rehabilitation Center and Clinics (SORCC) located in White City, Oregon would like to thank Ascentron, Inc., and its staff for the continued support of our veterans.

The partnership between our two organizations started in June of 2006, and has continued until the present time. Ascentron has employed 13 veterans in Transitional Work Experience and five have become direct hires. One of our veterans recently completed the Housekeeping Aide Training program at SORCC, and is working in an Industrial Janitorial position with Ascentron, Inc.

Mr. Mike Moynihan and his staff have offered wonderful opportunities and in some cases career opportunities for veterans trying to transition into society after addressing and overcoming numerous physical and emotional disabilities.

It is businesses such as Ascentron, Inc., that assist these individuals to see that they can start over and have a normal life again.

There are not enough words to explain the mental and physical damages endured by our veterans as a result of the horrors of war.

As we are facing a new era of veterans returning from situations that have left them wounded both physically as well as emotionally, it is our honor to assist them in whatever manner that we can.

Ascentron is a big part of the veteran's support system and we are grateful that they continue to be a part of our team which assists veterans work toward achieving a healthy recovery and independent lifestyle.
